Maono PD200x Dynamic Microphone (White)

Experience a new level of sound quality with the Maono PD200x dynamic microphone, combining pristine tonal clarity with a modern design. Thanks to its exceptionally clean sound provided by the custom microphone capsule, this model is the perfect choice for professionals and amateurs seeking reliability and aesthetics. Its durable metal construction, intuitive sound and RGB lighting control are just the beginning of the benefits that the Maono PD200x offers. Whether you're podcasting, participating in video conferences, or recording courses, this microphone was created to meet your expectations.

Custom Microphone Capsule

The key to perfect sound is the innovative Maono PD200x microphone capsule. Precisely designed, it ensures exceptionally clean and clear sound, which is essential for professional recordings. It balances tonality perfectly, bringing out the fullness of the user's voice, which is invaluable for podcasting or webinars.

Eye-Catching RGB Lighting

The visual appeal of the Maono PD200x microphone is just as important as its functionality. The RGB lighting with a choice of 8 colors, color-changing mode, and the option to turn off the backlighting adds a unique character to the device.

Advanced Maono Link Software

The Maono Link software extends the capabilities of the PD200x microphone, giving users control over sound at both basic and advanced levels. Equalizer, Limiter, Compressor are just some of the features that allow for sound customization. Adjusting the sound to your own preferences has never been so easy and intuitive, making it a significant asset when working on various projects.

Metal Construction

Durability and solidity are two characteristics that the Maono PD200x microphone can boast of. Its metal construction not only adds elegance but also guarantees the device's longevity. This microphone is designed to withstand hours of recording sessions and daily use without compromising on quality or appearance.

Intuitive Sound Control

Designed with user comfort in mind, the PD200x features a volume control knob for both your own voice and headphone audio. This makes the microphone incredibly user-friendly, allowing for quick and precise audio level adjustments during use. Additionally, the built-in mute button allows for instant privacy, which is crucial during live broadcasts.
