Thunderrobot G30 Controller / Gamepad

The G30 controller combines functionality with elegance. Its joystick with a rubberized textured coating ensures a secure grip, working smoothly in harmony with the bumpers and triggers. Richly equipped, it not only features standard buttons but also additional functions such as HOME, TURBO, and MODE, allowing you to adjust the brightness of the backlighting and vibration intensity. Offering seamless compatibility with various devices, from consoles to computers, it's ready for action right out of the box, saving you time on configuration. The ergonomic design and quality materials used make it not only durable but also comfortable to use, offering the perfect blend of aesthetics and functionality.

Numerous Buttons

The joysticks are finished with a rubberized textured coating to prevent thumb slippage. They operate smoothly and with the right amount of force, just like the bumpers and triggers. The pad is equipped with a D-pad, ABXY buttons, as well as additional buttons: HOME, TURBO, MODE, BACK, and START. On the back, we have 4 buttons, and on the bottom front, two buttons that allow you to adjust the brightness of the backlighting and vibration intensity.

Compatibility

The pad is compatible with a wide range of devices, including stationary and portable consoles, computers, and laptops. There is no need to configure any settings; the controller is ready to play as soon as it's connected. Thanks to the wired connection, there is no delay.

Ergonomic Design

The pad has been carefully designed with an emphasis on the quality of materials used and ergonomic construction to serve you for a long time. A combination of durable plastic, rubber parts, and illuminated elements gives the controller a minimalist elegance with interesting visual details. The G30's construction is ergonomic, ensuring comfort during gameplay and no discomfort in your hands.
