Edifier S1000 MKII

The Edifier professional speakers impress with an active 2.0 system with an unprecedented 120W RMS power. The audio signal is supported up to 24 BIT/216 kHz, ensuring the highest quality and full performance. The built-in titanium tweeter is responsible for smooth tonal transitions, ensuring excellent acoustic range. Bluetooth V5.0 version with Qualcomm aptX HD technology allow remote connection with most available models.

Great call selection

Many different types of devices, both coaxial and optical, can be connected to the speakers. Enjoy your personal time when connected to game consoles, TV boxes, cell phones, laptops and many other devices. The rear panel features universal optical, digital, coaxial and stereo RCA inputs among others, allowing you to connect several devices at one time. In addition, the digital input supports 24BIT/192 kHz. Enjoy quality sound without worry and enjoy hours of entertainment.

Wireless transmission without interference

The music transmission of Edifier speakers is without any interference or delay. They are equipped with the latest Bluetooth 5.0 with Qualcomm aptX HD encoding system. You don't have to worry about cumbersome wires anymore. Wireless connection will make you quickly pair your equipment and delight in trouble-free data transfer at a great level.

Discover the magic of music anew

The techniques used to perfect the sound you get have so far been used in professional equipment dedicated to audiophiles. A digital signal processor together with an aluminium membrane generate deep sound, free from any distortion. A class-D amplifier is also responsible for emphasising bass and treble, offering an unforgettable immersive experience.

Modern variant

The S1000 MKII is not only a clear and stable audio signal. Low distortion and high durability, thanks to the cabinet made of quality wood. The shapely finish gives the whole thing a modern, interesting character. Improved specification meets the standards of professionalism. Speakers can serve as an elegant addition to a stylishly decorated office, as well as complement the decor of the home room.
