Edifier WH950NB wireless headphones, ANC (black)

Immerse yourself in the world of music with the Edifier WH950NB. The wireless headphones are equipped with dynamic drivers that guarantee richly detailed sound. They provide hybrid ANC noise cancellation, eliminating ambient noise. Built-in microphones allow for comfortable conversations, and durable batteries allow for long-time use. What's more, they stand out with their foldable design and offer a special feature to protect your hearing.

Superior sound quality

The Edifier WH950NB wireless headphones offer impressive sound, allowing you to rediscover your favorite tunes. They feature built-in LDAC codecs and Hi-Res Audio certification, which means they deliver the highest sound quality. In addition, they are equipped with 40mm dynamic drivers, allowing you to enjoy crystal clear and richly detailed sound.

Long runtime

Don't be afraid that the headphones will discharge too quickly! The Edifier WH950NB work for about 34 h - if you use the ANC function, or 55 h when you turn it off. What's more, they're equipped with a 480 mAh battery, and with the quick charge option, just 10 min of charging is enough to keep them working for another 7 h. To fully charge them, you'll need about 1.5 h.

Hear what you want

Don't worry about ambient noise! Edifier wireless headphones support hybrid ANC technology that eliminates unnecessary noise, so you can focus on the podcast or audiobook you're listening to. However, if you prefer to stay in touch with your surroundings, use the Ambient Sound mode, which is perfect for a train station, for example, and you won't miss an important announcement.

Free communication

Conduct conversations on the phone and enjoy excellent sound quality. Edifier WH950NB wireless headphones are equipped with 4 microphones with ENC noise cancellation. As a result, they suppress wind noise, external noise and eliminate interference. So you can talk freely on the phone in the middle of the urban jungle and be sure that your callers can hear you.

Convenient operation

Download the Edifier Connect app and personalize the WH950NB. From it you'll adjust the equalizer and choose between different modes. You can also use the buttons located on the headphone. In addition, the headphone is equipped with a timer, an auto-off function, as well as safe playback, limiting the maximum volume to 85 dB. In addition, specifically for Android users, there is a Google Fast Pair option, for quickly pairing the headphones with your device and checking their last location.

Customize the performance of the headphones to suit your needs

The Edifier WH950NB offer 3 playback modes, which you can freely switch between from both the app and the headphone. Music mode is suitable for everyday use and music listening, while Game mode minimizes latency to 80ms, for even greater immersion. Theatre mode, on the other hand, is a combination of surround sound and a professionally tuned Equalizer to make you feel like you're in a movie theater. What's more, there are 2 ready-made Equalizer presets in the app - classic and dynamic, as well as the ability to adjust them individually.

Wired or wireless

Listen the way you like - the headphones can work both wirelessly and wired. They support Bluetooth version 5.3, which offers stable and fast signal transmission up to 10 meters. In addition, they allow you to connect to 2 devices simultaneously, so you can freely switch playback between working on your laptop and talking on your smartphone. This feature is available for both Bluetooth connection and via the included cable. The choice is yours!

Carefully considered design

Enjoy unparalleled comfort for a long time. Edifier headphones have soft earcups made of protein leather and memory foam, so they fit perfectly in your ears. They are perfect for traveling thanks to their foldable design and the included carrying case. What's more, the buttons on the earpiece allow you to answer/reject incoming calls, adjust the volume, skip songs, etc. In addition, the steel finish and sleek, minimalist design means they will fit in with almost any style.
