Edifier TO-U2 mini TWS headphones

Equip yourself with headphones that will bring your music experience to a whole new level! The Edifier TO-U2 mini focus on combining functionality and comfort, generating crystal-clear sound thanks to 13-millimetre drivers. The Bluetooth 5.1 module is responsible for a stable wireless connection, and the powerful batteries allow for up to 25 hours of operation when using the charging case.

Crystal-clear sound

Discover the richness of detail in your favourite tracks thanks to state-of-the-art solutions! The headphones are equipped with 13-mm PU drivers, additionally coated with titanium. This ensures high-class sound, allowing you to hear more than ever before.

Performance first

The Bluetooth 5.1 module ensures a stable and trouble-free connection to your device. It guarantees constant transmission while consuming less power, allowing the device to achieve a total operating time of up to 25 hours (using the charging case). What's more, just a 10-minute charging session will restore enough power for hours of operation.

OLED screen

The design of the TO-U2 mini also focuses on high user comfort and convenience. The charging case has a built-in OLED screen that will give you access to the most important information about the operation of your device. You will check, among other things, the status of the battery charge, Bluetooth connections or information on the process of energy replenishment.

State-of-the-art features

Handling your headphones has never been more convenient! The Smart Touch control puts you in control of your music or incoming calls. In addition, the device supports Smart Voice Call Noise Cancellation, effectively cutting out background noise during phone calls. It won't let you down when you're playing games either - just switch to Game Mode to enjoy ultra-low latency and boost your gaming performance!

Thoughtful design

The headphones have a durable, water- and dust-resistant design. This is thanks to their IP54 water-resistance rating. So you can use them during training or in the rain. In addition, their low weight ensures comfortable use.
