The Cloud up 2 tent from Naturehike is designed for durability and protection from a variety of weather conditions. Made of high-quality materials, it provides excellent durability, making it resistant to rain, wind and snow. A 3,000mm thick PU layer protects against moisture, while lightweight but durable polyester makes the tent durable and resistant to mechanical damage.

Compact and lightweight

The Naturehike Cloud up 2 weighs only about 1.7 kg, making it an ideal choice for those looking for a lightweight and easy-to-carry tent. This allows you to carry it easily, regardless of the distance, which is especially useful on longer hikes and trekking expeditions. The compact dimensions when folded make it easy to pack and store.

Thoughtful design

The tent's design is optimal for two people and offers comfortable sleeping space. The tent's B3 mesh interior and floor made of durable 150D oxford fabric provide excellent ventilation and protection from insects, while preventing moisture from entering from the ground. What's more, the 7001 aluminum frame guarantees stability and easy assembly, which is important when setting up camp quickly.

Additional features

The tent comes with practical accessories, such as tent pegs and a storage bag, making it easy to use and transport. Additional features, such as ventilation windows, ensure adequate air circulation inside the tent, which prevents condensation and maintains a comfortable microclimate.
