Remote Controlled RC Car 1:10 Double Eagle Ford F-150 Raptor E331-003

The 1:10 scale Ford F-150 Raptor model is a real treat for any remote control car enthusiast – excellent quality, performance, and durability that will provide hours of endless fun and exciting adventures! Its magnetic motors allow it to reach speeds of over 35 km/h, and the ability to tackle 45-degree inclines and a waterproof ESC speed controller ensures that no terrain will be inaccessible to you.

Dynamic 4x4 Driving on Any Terrain

Four-wheel drive is the foundation of dynamic driving! With a 4x4 construction, front and rear differentials, and an aluminum frame, the car is ready for any off-road challenge. Moreover, the IPX4 waterproof level of the speed controller provides protection against moisture and rain, allowing for unlimited adventures in any weather conditions.

Power and Dynamism Combined

Two 390 magnetic motors are the heart of this machine. They provide impressive speed and power with minimal noise and low power loss. It is thanks to them that the car reaches speeds of over 35 km/h, ensuring dynamic driving on any terrain. The metal servo with three wires ensures quiet and precise operation, allowing you full control over the steering and quick response to your commands.

Safety Comes First

The integrated speed controller provides even greater protection compared to other RC cars. It protects against overheating, overloading, and engine lock-up, ensuring long life and reliability. Additionally, the low voltage cutoff function protects the battery from excessive discharge.

Unique Design, Unlimited Possibilities

The official Ford F150 license guarantees authenticity and high-quality craftsmanship. The vehicle's unique design with colorful graffiti makes it stand out from the rest. With features such as speed and direction control, beginner and advanced modes, and the ability to tackle 45-degree inclines, your adventure on the track will become even more exciting, giving you complete freedom to explore the terrain.
