The Kiwi Home N19 protective case for the Nintendo Switch OLED console is an extremely practical accessory for any gamer. Created to provide maximum protection and comfort, the N19 case is distinguished by both functionality and modern design. However, it is worth noting that it is only compatible with the Switch OLED 7-inch model released in 2021.

Full protection and functionality

The N19 is not just an ordinary case; its construction is designed to provide optimal protection against bumps and drops. By using shock-absorbing materials, the case effectively protects the console during everyday use.

Extra space for games and SD cards

Built-in spaces for 4 games and 2 SD card slots are a significant convenience for gamers who appreciate the ability to quickly and easily access their favorite titles and additional memory. What's more, the unique rotating card holder allows you to easily place and remove the console from the docking station without having to remove the case.

Ergonomics and convenience of use

The ergonomic design of the Kiwi Home N19 case makes the console much more comfortable to hold, which is crucial during long gaming sessions. Easier installation and removal of joysticks further enhance comfort, while the built-in stand allows for comfortable media viewing or stationary gaming.
