Choetech HUB-H04, 4K USB-C to HDMI adapter (black)
In today's digital world, where image quality and multitasking are a priority, the Choetech HUB-H04 USB-C to HDMI adapter becomes an indispensable tool. It allows you to connect devices with a USB-C port to screens with an HDMI input, allowing you to transmit video in 4K resolution. It will be ideal both at home and in the office.

Support for the latest devices
The Choetech HUB-H04 adapter is compatible with a wide range of devices, including the latest Samsung Galaxy and Huawei phones, as well as popular laptops like the MacBook Pro, iPad Pro, Dell XPS, and more. So you can easily transfer video from your phone or laptop to a larger screen while enjoying high video quality.

Amazing 4K video quality
One of the biggest advantages of the Choetech HUB-H04 adapter is its ability to transmit video in 4K resolution at 60Hz. This means that you can watch your favorite movies, presentations, or photos in the highest possible quality, without any lag or interference. This is ideal for those who appreciate crystal clear images and rich details.

The adapter is made of the highest quality materials, including gold-plated connectors, which ensures the longevity and reliability of the connection. The PVC cover and friendly anti-slip design make the adapter comfortable and safe to use. Its compact size and light weight make you can take it with you wherever you need to go.

Easy operation and wide application
Connecting the Choetech HUB-H04 adapter is extremely easy - just connect the USB-C cable to your device and HDMI to the screen. The adapter does not require any additional software or power supply, which makes it extremely convenient to use. It's an ideal tool for work, study, as well as entertainment - from business presentations to remote teaching to evening movie screenings.
