PULUZ polycarbonate lens hood for Insta360 X4

The PULUZ lens hood for Insta360 X4 is a reliable accessory that provides professional protection and superior image quality. It is made of high-permeability and corrosion-resistant polycarbonate, making it extremely resistant to scratches, drops and dust, effectively protecting your camera's lens from everyday damage and scratches. The twist-lock mechanism allows for quick and easy installation and removal. This allows you to get your camera ready for action in no time, whatever the situation.

Excellent image quality

The shield is coated with an anti-reflective layer that provides light transmission of more than 95%. As a result, image quality is maintained at the highest level, and photos and videos remain sharp and clear, without unwanted reflections and distortions. With the lens hood in place, the camera still offers a wide field of view and is fully compatible with the original image blending algorithm.
