Mcdodo CH-3000 wireless car charger with retractable USB-C cable, 15W (black).

The Mcdodo CH-3000 wireless car charger is a device that revolutionizes the way you charge on the go. It automatically adjusts the output power to the needs of the device being charged, ensuring that your smartphone is not only charged quickly, but also safely. With its retractable USB-C cable, it not only provides convenience of use, but also keeps your car tidy by eliminating the problem of tangled wires.

High performance

With the Mcdodo CH-3000 charger, you don't have to worry about compatibility - it supports 15W, 10W, 7.5W and 5W charging, making it suitable for a wide range of devices. With its help, you can charge your iPhone 15 to 40% in just 30 minutes! What's more, with a charging range of up to 6mm, the charger effectively charges your devices without removing the case.

Stability in any position

Equipped with extremely powerful N52 magnets, this charger offers unparalleled traction, capable of holding devices weighing up to 1,700g. Whether you prefer vertical charging, ideal for using navigation, or horizontal charging, useful for watching movies, the N52's magnets keep your device stable and secure.

With attention to detail

The Mcdodo car charger features a stable and sturdy design, which guarantees that your device will be kept safe even in the most demanding road conditions. Thanks to its 360° rotation, you can easily adjust the position of your device to suit your needs, ensuring an optimal view in any situation. In addition, the silicone-coated charging surface protects your device from scratches.

Multi-winter protection

Mcdodo CH-3000 is designed for maximum safety of your device. Equipped with advanced safety features, it guarantees protection against overloading, overheating and short circuits, among other things. Intelligent foreign object detection technology further ensures that charging will only begin when a compatible device is on the charger, effectively eliminating the risk of damage.
