Botslab 3C Pro C224 8MP rotating WiFi indoor camera

Meet the Botslab C224, an innovative security camera that offers excellent 4K 8MP image quality to capture every detail. With an F1.6 aperture, it provides clear recordings even in low-light environments. The 2.4GHz Wi-Fi and Wi-Fi 6 wireless connection guarantees stability and speed. The camera works with Amazon Alexa, Google Assistant and IFTTT for easy control and integration with other Smart Home devices.

Comprehensive monitoring features

The Botslab C224 offers a full 360° horizontal and 156° vertical field of view, so you can monitor every corner of your home. Smart features such as object tracking, motion detection, baby cry detection, and facial recognition ensure the highest level of protection and precise monitoring. In addition, the ability to detect danger and virtual safe zone settings add another layer of security, alerting you to any disturbing events in real time.

Storage and access to recordings

Storing your recordings on a microSD card of up to 256 GB or in the Botslab cloud ensures you'll never lose important moments. A one-year trial version of the Botslab cloud allows 7-day storage of 5-second motion-detected recordings, with 5-minute gaps between recordings, ideal for those who need secure, long-term storage. A privacy feature allows you to automatically cover the camera lens at certain times or when you enter your home (feature available for iOS only), providing peace of mind. You can also schedule at what time the mentioned mode should turn on.

Ease of use and integration

The Botslab C224 camera provides quick pairing with your smartphone and simple setup, allowing you to use its capabilities immediately. With two-way audio, you can have conversations with loved ones even when you're away from home. And the option to mount it on the ceiling or place it on a countertop gives you flexibility in choosing where to install it.

Smart control and instant notifications

Gesture or one-touch control of the camera simplifies daily use and makes managing home security intuitive. The Botslab C224 will instantly notify you when family members or pets leave a secure area, and detect the presence of unknown people. Integration with Amazon Alexa, Google Assistant and IFTTT allows you to fully customize the camera to your lifestyle, allowing you to remotely manage all camera functions.
