Colmi P20 Smartwatch (Silver)

Colmi P20 is a practical and elegant smartwatch that is perfect for everyday use. The 1.65" AMOLED display provides convenient access to notifications and settings, and the Always On Display function makes it easy to use. What's more, it will let you take care of your health, and the more than 100 available sports modes will increase the effectiveness of your workouts. It also offers a number of other everyday useful features, including a menstrual calendar, the ability to make calls, a reminder to drink water and much more.

Precise health and activity monitoring

The Colmi P20 is equipped with an advanced three-channel PPG sensor for bio-tracking, which provides 15% more accurate measurements and 10% better precision for detecting exercise heart rate. This allows you to monitor your heart rate in real time, with the data automatically saved to the Da Fit app. In addition, the smartwatch allows you to measure your blood pressure and saturation, so you can keep track of your health parameters around the clock.

Multifunctional sports assistant

The Colmi P20 smartwatch offers more than 100 sports modes, including cycling, badminton or pilates, as well as automatic recognition of sports - you don't have to enter them manually. Colmi's proprietary algorithm, which accurately records your heart rate while running, is responsible for precise performance tracking. This allows you to tailor your workouts even better to your individual needs and goals.

Personalization and convenience of use

The watch offers more than 100 dial designs to choose from, allowing you to fully personalize its appearance. With a remote photo-taking function, sedentary reminders, alarm clock, menstrual calendar and weather forecast for the coming week, the Colmi P20 becomes not only a tool for activity monitoring, but also a daily assistant. In addition, the IP68 water resistance allows you to use the device on rainy days and while washing your hands, which greatly enhances the user experience.

Performance and reliability

Powered by a 235 mAh lithium-polymer battery, the Colmi P20 provides up to 3-5 days of operation on a single charge and up to 7 days in standby mode. Charging time is about 2 h, allowing for quick energy replenishment. The watch is also equipped with a speaker and microphone, allowing you to make calls directly from your wrist. The entire device weighs just 39 g, making it lightweight and comfortable to wear all day.
