Adapter Lightning do USB-C Mcdodo OT-6010, auto power off

Mcdodo OT-6010 Lightning to USB-C adapter, auto power off

The Mcdodo OT-6010 adapter is a compact and smart solution that allows you to quickly and safely charge your iPhone 15 with a Lightning cable, transforming it into an advanced fast charging cable with auto power off function. This handy adapter offers an easy plug-and-play connection for convenient use in any situation.

Auto Power Off function for battery protection

With an auto power off function when fully charged, the Mcdodo OT-6010 adapter protects your device's battery from overcharging. After 30 minutes of reaching a full charge, the adapter automatically interrupts the power supply, which contributes to longer battery life and increases charging safety.

Fast charging with up to 60W of power

The adapter supports fast charging of up to 60W, allowing you to instantly charge not only your iPhone 15, but also other devices with a USB-C port, such as an iPad or MacBook. Regardless of the device, the adapter provides stable and fast charging, and the LED indicator shows the current status of the process.

High build quality and durability

The adapter's housing is made of durable aluminum alloy, which makes it resistant to drops, scratches and heat dissipation. This makes the adapter not only elegant, but also ensures safe and stable operation for a long time of use.

Wide compatibility

The Mcdodo OT-6010 is compatible not only with the iPhone 15, but also with many other devices equipped with USB-C and Lightning ports, including Android smartphones, tablets and laptops. The adapter also supports high-speed data transfer at up to 480 Mbps, allowing for efficient file transfers between devices.
