Maono XLR-180 cable (black)

Maono XLR-180 is a high-quality product that combines durability and reliability. It is an indispensable tool for anyone who requires a stable connection and values the highest sound quality. The length of the cable is 2 meters.

Durability

The XLR-180 is designed for long-term use. With an impressive lifespan, it is several times more durable than standard XLR cables. The high-quality metal housing and internal Oxygen-Free Copper (OFC) conductors ensure reliability and longevity. In addition, the PVC coating is environmentally friendly and resistant to scratches and abrasion, significantly extending the life of the product. In addition, the cable is equipped with gold-plated pins that resist corrosion.

Compatibility

Maono XLR-180 cable is compatible with a wide range of equipment, including mixers, microphones, speakers, amplifiers, cameras, and DMX stage equipment. It is ideal for professional musicians, sound engineers, and home users who appreciate high quality audio.
