The Tomtoc ArmorCase-G25 is a case for the Nintendo Switch Pro controller, providing fantastic protection certified by the military-grade drop resistance standard MIL STD 810H-516.8. Its precise construction ensures the case fits perfectly to every curve of the controller, protecting joysticks from damage, pressing, or shifting, thereby also saving battery life.

Construction

Made from German Bayer polycarbonate, this case protects all moving parts and the entire Switch Pro from external forces - including water and dust, to which it is resistant. Additionally, the case can withstand pressure of about 27kg and is very transport-friendly - taking up even 40% less space than other cases. The case also has a hole for the USB slot - you don't have to remove the controller to charge it. The case is fastened with a buckle.
