Nillkin SnapBranch Modular holder for tablet, watch and headphones (gray)

The Nillkin SnapBranch Modular all-in-one holder is a versatile stand that organizes and integrates all your mobile devices in one place. Designed for tablets, smartphones, watches and headphones, it offers a practical solution for organizing your workspace. Its minimalist gray design fits perfectly into any desk while providing full functionality. The set includes various modules that allow easy integration of different devices, increasing the convenience of daily use.

360° rotatable base

One of the key advantages of this mount is the base with a 360° rotation function. This way you can easily rotate the screen of your tablet or smartphone to show it to other people. This is ideal for meetings, presentations or simply when you want to share screen content without having to move the device.

Modular design for maximum flexibility

Nillkin SnapBranch Modular is a mount with a modular design, which means you can customize it yourself. With dedicated modules for your smartphone watch and headphones, each of your devices will find its place. Additional side and rear arms allow you to stably mount various accessories, such as Apple Watch, AirPods Max headphones or other Bluetooth devices.

Organization and order on your desk

The Nillkin SnapBranch mount not only keeps your devices in one place, but also helps keep your desk organized. This avoids cable clutter and scattered devices, which promotes better work organization and improves concentration. It's not just a holder, but a true office companion that makes everyday life easier.

Stress-reducing design and stylish accessory

The base of the holder has a special decompression design that makes a gentle sound like the ticking of a clock as it rotates. This subtle sound has a calming effect and allows for a moment of relaxation during busy work. In addition, the elegant industrial design makes the holder an aesthetic addition to any desk.
