Firming facial device ANLAN ALVLY01-03

Take care of a healthy and radiant complexion with Anlan. The device uses thermotherapy, light and EMS micro-currents to highlight the jawline, restore radiance and reduce the appearance of wrinkles. With 6 modes and 6 levels of intensity, you'll be able to customize its performance, and the foldable design makes it easy to store.

EMS microcurrents

The Anlan device uses EMS microcurrents, which reach the dermis. It boosts ATP production, reduces the appearance of wrinkles and relaxes muscles. It gives the skin a youthful appearance and enhances facial contours.

Light therapy

Choose light treatment and enjoy a young and healthy complexion. Blue light with a wavelength of 470 nm eliminates bacteria and has an anti-inflammatory effect. It reduces sebum secretion, reduces blemishes and tightens pores. Red light (625 nm), on the other hand, stimulates collagen production, improves blood circulation, slows down the aging process and makes the skin elastic.

A pleasant massage

Give yourself a massage after a hard, long day. The device by Anlan generates vibrations at the frequency of 6000 beats per minute, which stimulates facial muscles. What is more, vibrations accelerate absorption of cosmetics, improve blood circulation and stimulate cells to work.

Thermotherapy

ALVLY01-03 uses a temperature of 40°C to burn fat and reduce double chin. With the Anlan device, you will give your face the desired shape and restore its firmness. What's more, you can combine heat and light therapy for even better results.

Comfort of use

It only takes 10 minutes to restore your skin's radiance. Use the device before you put on make-up to get rid of puffiness and give your face a radiant look. During this time, you can have a cup of tea or write messages. The device works wirelessly and does not hinder your movements.

Easy to use

The product was designed to be easy and convenient to use. On the right side there are 2 buttons: power and mode change. A remote control is also included in the set. It can be used to turn the device on/off, select mode and intensity level.
