PGYTECH OneGo Shoulder Bag 10L

Looking for a bag to help you transport your camera and photography accessories? PGYTECH is meeting those needs with the OneGo 10L model. Practical solutions allow you to fit many of the necessary tools in it, while the design on an adjustable strap increases comfort while carrying.

Functionality first

The design of the product was based primarily on functionality and comfort. The design with a clamshell closure provides quick access to the inside of the bag - without the risk of equipment falling out when opening. What's more, the adjustable strap ensures you can adjust its length - all for your comfort!

Design the interior yourself

The bag's versatility is highlighted by the ability to customize its interior to suit your needs. It comes with 3 dividers so you can choose the layout of the pockets! In addition, the OneGo 10L also has a compartment for a laptop, filters and batteries and external pockets. The 10L version also features a lockable hard-shell compartment to help you store more fragile items.

Useful accessories included

The bag comes with everything you need! The 2 practical, adjustable straps ensure that it is comfortable to wear - without causing discomfort, and the 3 dividers allow you complete freedom to organise your space. In addition, you get 2 magnetic pins which can be used as battery status indicators or 1/4" keys.
