Wired Vertical Mouse Delux M618Plus 4000DPI RGB

Ref: 6938820404552

Ergonomic design

The M618Plus Vertical Mouse owes its shape to a snail shell, combining ergonomics with a vertical side grip that effectively replaces the traditional mouse shape. This allows the mouse to become a natural extension of the arm, reducing the need to cross the arm bones, which translates into comfort while working. It's made of a leather-like material with non-slip tabs for even more comfortable handling.

High precision

The Delux brand product has a range of levels - 800 / 1200 / 1600 / 2400 / 4000, so you can set your own precision to move the mouse. Unlike a conventional mouse, with the different settings, you can work on a large screen area with fewer movements.

Built-in software

With built-in memory, the mouse will remember your setting. Each button is programmable to meet your needs for office work, internet surfing and gaming. In addition, the M618Plus Vertical Mouse is suitable for home and office use. It is compatible with Windows 2000, XP, 7, 8, and 10 and MacOS, making it even more versatile in use.

Sensor for multiple tasks

The PAW 3212 sensor on the M618Plus gives you the flexibility you need whether you need to use it for office work or playing your favorite games. If you use your computer for both work and play, the 618Plus is a great choice.

Pleasant design

In addition to its ergonomic shape, the mouse has been tailored for a pleasant working experience. The soft material-covered surface is dirt-resistant and won't make your hands sweat, even during prolonged work. Additional guidance in the form of non-slip mats on the sides, gives you a secure grip and full control.

RGB backlight

The device has a dynamic RGB backlighting, thanks to which it will emphasize the modern character of your workstation. Bet on the combination of high functionality and extraordinary style. You have it at your fingertips!
