Deli Tools EDL2685C wire cutters

Deli wire shears with a length of 200 mm are used for cutting rods with a diameter of up to 3 mm. The head is made of high-quality carbon steel. PVC plastic handle caps prevent slipping from the hands during work, and thanks to their proper contouring they fit perfectly in the hand. The sharp edges of the jaws easily cut through the wire, making work comfortable and pleasant. The shears are used for cutting steel wire, and they will find their application in construction, industry and crafts. They are also recommended for rebar work.
