Face and neck beauty device ANLAN 09-AMJY21-02A EMS RF

ANLAN 09-AMJY21-02A EMS RF face and neck massager

You only need one device to provide comprehensive skin care and add smoothness, firmness and a healthy glow to your skin. The face and neck massager by ANLAN offers 2 modes and up to 6 functions such as white and red light therapy, EMS electrostimulation, vibration, RF ultrasound and heat action. The device will improve collagen production, reduce the appearance of wrinkles and make your complexion more supple.

Discover the power of ultrasound

The massager uses RF ultrasound with a frequency of 1.07MHz to make your complexion firmer and smoother. It boosts collagen production and makes the skin more elastic. It will also give your face a beautiful glow. The device will also allow you to reduce the appearance of wrinkles. What's more, you can choose from 3 levels of RF intensity.

EMS Microcurrents

Give yourself a relaxing massage that will also help improve the condition of your skin. The ANLAN brand device uses EMS microcurrents. They, too, stimulate collagen production and firm the complexion. They also help reduce swelling and sagging skin. With the help of the massager, you will make it easier to contour your face and get an excellent lifting effect.

Take advantage of light therapy

Want to get rid of imperfections and give your skin a glow? Take advantage of the white or red light therapy offered by the device! Red light with a wavelength of about 621nm improves circulation and metabolism, stimulates collagen production and increases skin firmness. White light, with a wavelength of about 473nm, penetrates the deeper layers of the skin, reduces skin laxity and helps remove hyperpigmentation.

User-friendly

Using the massager is extremely simple. First, wash your face and neck thoroughly, then apply your favorite cream or serum. Later, select the mode of operation. The available options are EMS (white light, EMS microcurrents, vibration) and RF (red light, RF ultrasound, vibration, heat). Then massage your face and neck, and when you're done, clean the head of the device with a cloth or wipe.

Even more amenities

Find out that beauty treatments don't have to be complicated, time-consuming and unpleasant at all. The ANLAN brand massager is very easy to use and provides unparalleled comfort. It also stands out for its long working time. It is equipped with a durable 900mAh battery, which allows it to work for up to 3 hours on a single charge.
