Powerbank Baseus Bipow 20000mAh, 2x USB, USB-C, 20W (black).

Have you ever had your phone discharge at the least opportune moment? This model's powerbank can remedy that. When traveling, just plug the device into your phone. It is possible to charge up to three devices simultaneously. Its capacity is 20000 mAh, and the output power is 20 watts. It is equipped with an LCD display that allows you to monitor the level of charge of the powerbank. It can be charged via a Type-C port and a Micro USB port. The device has 7 safety levels.

Large capacity

The capacity of the powerbank is 20000 mAh. This means that it is capable of charging the phone multiple times. It takes 8.5 hours to charge the powerbank. This is possible thanks to the PD 5V / 3A power consumption. To monitor the level of the PowerBank, there is a built-in display that shows the charge level in percent. The charging itself supports the 15W Power Delivery standard.

Three input ports

The device can be used to charge three devices simultaneously. This means you can share your device with someone else who also needs to charge their phone. It can power most devices via USB-A / USB-C. The device can be used for Apple devices and phones that have Android. It can be used to charge wireless speakers, lights, photo equipment and more.

Durability and safety

The product is resistant to breakage and damage due to the durable and resistant materials from which it is made. It has world-class chips in its design, reliable batteries, state-of-the-art circuitry and a multi-layer coating designed to ensure safety. The device has numerous certifications after passing safety tests. It has 7 levels of safety, consecutively, against overheating, discharge, overvoltage, overcharging, short-circuits and electromagnetic field, which provides protection for the accessory and the phone. In addition, airline standards are also met.
