PGYTECH accessory case (gray)

Keep yourself organized and gain the ability to conveniently store your photography accessories and more. The PGYTECH P-CB-092 case is equipped with plenty of pockets and compartments to optimally organize your space and make it easy to locate the items you need. The product is extremely lightweight and portable, and durable, water-resistant materials have been used in its construction.

Plenty of pockets and compartments

Make it easy to store your accessories, organize them properly and be sure to always find what you need without any problems. PGYTECH case is equipped with plenty of compartments and pockets where you can store, for example, memory cards, computer mouse, powerbank, watch and necessary cables. There's also a separate space for your pen and bank cards, as well as a hidden pocket for your AirTag.

Durable construction

The case is made of high-quality materials, which means it is very durable and resistant to damage. Don't worry about it getting damaged quickly - it will serve you well for a long time. It will also not be intimidated by accidental splashing or rain. Noteworthy is also the excellent quality zipper, which is extremely durable and allows smooth opening or closing of the case.

Convenient use

Enjoy convenient access to your accessories. If you want, you can open the case completely or only halfway, so you can easily hold it with one hand. Carrying it will make it easier for you with a special handle. What's more, on the sides of the P-CB-092 you will find special attachments that allow you to attach an additional shoulder strap. This way you will turn the case into a practical bag!
