Prism USB to USB-C angle cable Mcdodo CA-3401, 100W, 1.8m (black)

Mcdodo CA-3401 allows you to quickly charge your device and stands out for its wide compatibility. What's more, thanks to its angled design, you can charge your smartphone or laptop and use it comfortably at the same time. It also allows you to transfer files quickly. In addition, the use of high-quality materials translates into the durability of the product.

Fast, convenient charging

The Mcdodo CA-3401 angled cable uses 100 watts of power, which will quickly renew your device's energy. As a result, you'll be able to charge a 16" MacBook Pro in about 2 h, and an 11" iPad Pro in about 2.5 h. It also works with devices such as Nintendo Switch, Huawei, Honor, Samsung, Xiaomi smartphones and Lenovo, Dell, HP laptops, etc.

Thoughtful design

High-quality materials were used in the production of the cable, so you can be sure that the product will serve you for a long time. The zinc alloy finish ensures durability, and the nylon braid protects against cable breakage. What's more, gold-plated connectors stand out for their greater resistance to damage, and the copper core is responsible for the product's efficient operation. In addition, Mcdodo's patented MSC technology allows you to quickly charge your device while protecting it from overheating.
