Rockbros fingerless cycling gloves S202BKL (black)

Rockbros cycling gloves are perfect for summer or spring cycling trips. They are very light and breathable - high quality material with excellent thermoactive properties was used for their production. Thanks to them you will ensure greater comfort during the ride and avoid painful corns. The non-slip surface guarantees a firm grip, while the spider web design gives the gloves an original, stylish character.

Flexible and durable

High-quality nylon is used to make the gloves, giving them exceptional stretch, flexibility and durability. Don't be afraid that they will be damaged quickly! What's more, thanks to the non-slip surface, you can grip the handlebars more securely and enjoy a more comfortable ride.

Multiple applications

These practical and durable gloves are great for warm days. They are perfect not only for cycling, but also, for example, for fishing, driving, running and other outdoor sports. They will protect your hands from the sun and give you a pleasant cooling feeling. What's more, the use of breathable materials guarantees greater comfort in spring and summer.
