Mobvoi TicWatch Pro 5 GPS Smartwatch

The TicWatch Pro 5 GPS is a reliable smartwatch that will give you convenient access to your most important information! A rotating crown and a clear 1.43-inch OLED display with ultra-low power consumption make operation a breeze. The powerful battery allows for up to 45 days of use, and the Qualcomm Snapdragon W5 + Gen 1 chip is responsible for reliable operation. It supports Wear OS, which allows you to pay for purchases, listen to YouTube music or use Google Maps, among other things. It has multiple sports modes, and the compass and GPS will help you find your way back to wherever you are. It also offers a number of health monitoring features to help you get even more out of your body.

Clear OLED display

Get quick and convenient access to all the device's functions. The smartwatch is equipped with a highly efficient 1.43" OLED display. It also has a second display that shows basic information, i.e. time, heart rate or calories burned - it also stands out for its extremely low power consumption. It is made of high-quality glass, which is characterized by resistance to leaving fingerprints. What's more, you can personalize its appearance, choosing from as many as 1,000 available dial styles.

Up to 45 days of operation

Use your smartwatch freely without worrying about it draining too quickly. The durable 628 mAh battery is capable of providing up to 45 days of operation in basic mode on a single charge, or up to 80 hours when you use smart mode. Thanks to the innovative fast charging technology, you'll be able to charge it up to 65% in just 30 minutes, while a 15-minute charge will allow you to use the smartwatch all day!

GPS on your wrist

With TicWatch Pro 5 GPS you can easily find your way back home or discover brand new places! The smartwatch connects to all 5 satellite systems - GPS, GLONASS, Galileo, QZSS and Beidou. The device provides accurate location data no matter where you are! What's more, it also has a built-in compass - just one touch to set coordinates. Want to know how far you are from your chosen direction? Just shake your wrist!

Monitor your heart rate 24 hours a day

Get information about your body anytime, anywhere! TicWatch Pro 5 GPS continuously monitors your heart rate 24 hours a day. In addition, the smartwatch will instantly send an alert if your heart rate is high or low at rest and during exercise, giving you a complete picture of your heart condition. Advanced irregular heartbeat detection technology identifies a wide range of heart arrhythmias, including atrial fibrillation, and alerts you to potential heart health problems in real time. (Note: This feature is not intended to diagnose or treat any medical conditions or for any other medical purposes.)

For the sake of your health

Learn the most important parameters about your health in just a few seconds! The smartwatch will inform you about your blood oxygen levels, stress, heart rate or the need to recover after training to prevent injuries. I also offer a sleep monitoring function that allows you to track your sleep phases, respiratory rate and skin temperature. The Mobvoi Health app will give you convenient access to all the data.

With athletes in mind

Running, cycling, or maybe swimming? The TicWatch Pro 5 GPS offers more than 100 sports modes, so everyone is sure to find something suitable for themselves. The smartwatch also measures the distance traveled, the number of calories burned or how many floors you have climbed in a day. Advanced algorithms and continuous GPS calibration provide detailed and precise measurements to help you achieve even more. The smartwatch also has a biometer to track barometric pressure and altitude fluctuations.

Your daily assistant

Make your daily activities easier! The Mobvoi smartwatch is equipped with the latest Wear OS by Google, which will give you access to a host of cool features. Add your payment card to Google Wallet and conveniently pay with your watch thanks to Google Pay! You can also listen to your favorite music from YouTube, navigate around the city with Google Maps, and answer/reject incoming calls or get notifications from apps. Your possibilities are almost endless - see for yourself!

With attention to detail

The TicWatch Pro 5 GPS has been designed with maximum comfort in mind. Its ergonomic, lightweight design means you won't even feel you have it on your wrist! The smartwatch's strap is made of skin-friendly silicone, so you don't have to worry about irritation. It boasts 5ATM water resistance, so you don't have to take it off even when swimming! What's more, it has also received US-MIL-STD 810H certification, which meets the highest standards of durability.
