Imou Versa outdoor camera

Imou Versa is a surveillance camera that will work well both indoors and outdoors thanks to its IP65 level waterproofing, which guarantees full dustproofing and resistance to heavy rain. The Versa has a built-in floodlight and siren so you can sleep soundly. The image is captured in full color or infrared mode - you can customize these to suit your needs.

Various recording modes

The camera has different recording modes: smart mode makes the camera automatically switch to color recording when it detects suspicious movement. Color mode records in full color all the time, and the spotlights make the image clear. Recording in black and white and a clear image even in the dark are features of the infrared mode. Off mode, on the other hand, deactivates infrared, night vision and floodlights modes.

Loud siren

The camera is equipped with a siren with a volume of 110dB - comparable to a jackhammer, chainsaw or motorcycle without a muffler. A sound of this volume will scare off uninvited guests and alert the surroundings. The siren activates when the algorithm detects a person - in addition, it also sends a notification of the event.

Weather resistance

Versa is a rugged device that is resistant to wind, rain and sand to take care of your safety in demanding weather conditions. It is IP65-certified to guarantee full dustproofing and resistance to heavy rain.

Minimalist design and simple body

The Versa is a camera with a minimalist design that features elegance and simplicity. The camera's rounded edges are pleasing to the eye and mean that rain will run off easily.

Versatility

The kid's room, the garden, the front door, the balcony, the dog's room - you can keep an eye on any place important to you. Versa will show you if you're sure everything is in order for the things that are most important to you. The 114-degree field of view gives you a wide field of observation.

Easy installation

Installing the Versa is fabulously easy - the camera can be attached to a sticker, which takes 10 seconds, or to a magnet.

Say hello to your pet or child

The built-in microphone and speakers allow you to speak to people and pets who are in the same room as the camera. In addition, it can detect unusual sounds and send notifications to your phone.

Memory and recording

H.64 allows video to be compressed into a smaller format to relieve the network and reduce storage usage. SD cards with capacities of 64, 128 and 256 GB are sufficient for 4, 8 and 16 days of recording, respectively. The alternative is a DVR with a much longer recording period and the ability to handle multiple cameras at the same time, or cloud recording.
