Telesin GP-FLM-902 protective foil for GoPro Hero 9/ Hero 10 / Hero 11 camera screens and lens

Get comprehensive protection for your GoPro sports camera. The Telesin GP-FLM-902 kit includes protective foil for both screens and lens to effectively protect them from damage. You also do not have to worry about loss of image quality or impaired use of the camera - the product is designed in such a way that it is still possible to operate it smoothly by touch.

Ideally matched to your camera

Enjoy reliable protection of your equipment. The protective foil adheres perfectly to the screens and lens and is also easy to install. It stands out for its perfect fit also at the edges. It does not stick out and is extremely pleasant to the touch. What's more, the method used in the production process allows to cut out the entire element in one go, thus avoiding any imperfections visible on the foil.

Reliable, all-around protection

No more need to buy protection for both screen and lens separately. In the GP-FLM-902 kit, you'll find everything you need to give your camera comprehensive protection. The foil is extremely durable and incredibly resistant to scratches and other types of damage. It has also been coated with a special electrostatic coating.

Image quality as good as before

The protective foil has a transmittance of 99%, which ensures lossless, excellent image quality. Your photos and videos will continue to impress with their natural, vivid colors and rich detail, and the content displayed on your screens will be as clear and legible as before.

Smooth touch operation

Concerned that after sticking the foil to the touchscreen, the camera operation will no longer be as smooth and easy as before? Don't be! You will still enjoy convenient access to all the functions of your device. With just a gentle touch, you can start recording or change settings. Telesin ensures not only the safety of your GoPro Hero 9 / Hero 10 / Hero 11, but also an unparalleled user experience.
