Photo Reflector Boards by Puluz are a great addition to your photography accessories. Improve the quality of your photos by relying on simple, proven solutions. You can use the silver and gold board in various situations, choosing the right one for the prevailing conditions or needs - both indoors and outdoors.

2 colours - different applications

You'll use the golden board to accentuate the warmth of the colours and create a sunlight effect. It is ideal for portrait photography. The silver one will help you work in low-light environments. Evaluate your needs and choose a panel to make your photos look natural - no matter what the conditions are!

4-layer construction

The blender is made up of 4 separate layers to help you achieve your desired effects as efficiently as possible. The base has a texture design that provides a better diffused reflection effect. The next layer is the background which helps to achieve a clear colour on the next level - a high quality reflective paint. All of this is covered with a protective coating that effectively protects it from scratches.

Functionality and comfort

The boards are housed in a spring-loaded, sturdy frame which is made of steel. This makes it easy to compress and expand the construction - according to your needs! What's more, the included carrying case will give you the convenience of moving it around. Always be prepared to arrange a photo shoot!
