Vention IJBX Cat.6 UTP Flat Network Cable 50m Black

As technology becomes a daily companion in our lives, making the right choice of equipment becomes key. We introduce the Vention IJBX network cable, which has been designed to meet the requirements of the most cutting-edge devices. Its main features ensure not only reliability but also a versatility of applications.

High-Efficiency Data Transmission

With the capability of transmitting data at a level of 1000 Mbps, the Vention IJBX cable offers exceptionally stable and fast connectivity. This means that even when transferring large files, streaming high-resolution content, or gaming online, users can count on uninterrupted and consistent performance. Such a level of performance is essential nowadays, when we depend on fluidity and quality of connection.

Universal RJ45 Interface

The RJ45 interface that the IJBX model is equipped with guarantees a wide range of uses. Thanks to this, the cable is compatible with a broad array of devices such as computers, laptops, routers, switches, televisions, smart boxes, and printers. This means that no matter the needs, this cable will be the right choice, tailored to your equipment.

Slim Design

The IJBX network cable features a slim design with a thickness of only 1.6 mm. This solution not only looks aesthetically pleasing in any interior but also makes cable management easier and minimizes the risk of tangling. At a length of 50 meters, this network cable is perfectly suited for larger spaces, providing flexibility in device placement. By choosing the IJBX model from Vention, you are opting for reliability and functionality in a single product.
