Vention CTIBC USB 2.0 A male to Micro-B male cable (2 A, 0.25 m, black)

Charge your devices at 2 A and transfer data at 480 Mbps at the same time. The Vention cable will streamline your workflow, and with its sturdy, thoughtful design, it minimizes interference for stability and durability.

Efficient performance

With data transfer speeds of up to 480 Mbps, the Vention cable provides lightning-fast file transfers between devices. It works with phones, Bluetooth speakers, lights and video recorders, among others. It also provides an amperage of 2 A and supports popular fast charging protocols, including Huawei FCP, Qualcomm QC and Samsung AFC. As a result, it will instantly renew the energy of compatible equipment.

A design that does not disappoint

What sets the Vention cable apart is its robust construction. When designing it, 28/22AWG tinned copper and multiple layers of shielding were used, so stability and durability are guaranteed at the highest level. In addition, the damage-resistant PVC sheath extends its life.
