Koorui GN10 27" 2560x1440px 240Hz monitor

The Koorui GN10 is a monitor that will satisfy even the most demanding users. They offer an exceptionally high refresh rate of 240Hz, which, combined with AMC FreeSync technology, guarantees extremely smooth performance. Thanks to the QHD resolution of 2560 x 1440 px, you will easily see every detail during dynamic gameplay. You can successfully connect it not only to your PC, but also to your PS5, Xbox or Nintendo Switch console.

Smooth and dynamic gameplay

The Koorui GN10 is your key to outperforming your opponents in the game! A response time of just 1ms eliminates any lag, meaning that every action on screen is captured almost instantly, without blurring or shifting. The 240Hz refresh rate, on the other hand, ensures that images are not only extremely sharp, but also incredibly smooth, allowing you to fully engage in your gameplay or work.

QHD resolution

The monitor provides a QHD resolution of 2560 x 1440 px and a colour palette of 95% sRGB, which will make details that may have escaped before, now clearly visible. The realistic colours will make your gameplay even more fascinating. The Koorui GN10 also offers a wide 178° viewing angle, which means you can enjoy a perfect picture no matter where you sit.

Advanced technology

Immerse yourself in your favourite games without annoying flicker or lag. AMD SyncFree technology eliminates image shake and minimises lag, for incredibly smooth gaming and superior precision at work. Whether you're playing your favourite game, editing video or working on graphic design projects, this technology allows you to achieve maximum performance without any distractions.

Taking care of your eyes

When using the Koorui GN10, you don't have to worry about your eyesight! The monitor offers an eye protection mode that reduces harmful blue light emissions, significantly reducing visual fatigue. This is a great solution, especially if you spend long hours in front of the monitor, such as working or gaming.
